

Sewing Machines! Sewing Machines! Sewing Machines!

We have a limited number of second hand Sewing Machines at bargain prices.

These machines are in good condition and we are going to close them out at prices ranging from

$4.00 to $10.00

Come early and get your choice—they will not last long.

Also have an Oak Kitchen Cabinet and an Oak Dresser that you can buy at practically your own price.

BOYD & MITCHELL

Northeast Corner Square Farmington, Missouri

BONNE TERRE ITEMS

Roy Moore, Justice of the Peace at Valle Mines, was in Bonne Terre on business Friday.

Mrs. T. U. Young and son, Price, returned to their home at Jonesboro, Ark., Friday morning after a week's visit with friends and relatives here.

T. J. Layne and Harry Miller came to Bonne Terre via railroad Friday morning and returned home in an automobile in the afternoon.

Assistant Prosecuting Attorney, Thomas Matthews, of Desloge, transacted business in Justice Messinger's court here Friday.

Deputy Sheriff, Charles Adams, of Farmington, motored over to town Friday morning bringing several prisoners to the trials here.

Attorney R. C. Tucker of Farmington, was in town on legal business Friday, also working in interests of Democratic nomination for Prosecuting Attorney.

Harry Whitten has been working on the farm of his father's near Valle Mines the past week.

Mrs. Herman Fink went to St. Louis Friday morning to visit with the family of her sister, Mrs. C. E. Gilbert, for a few days and to do some shopping.

Lawrence Shields of Farmington visited homefolks here the latter part of last week. He is nursing an injured hand.

Misses Eunice Ringer and Audrey Fite have been visiting in Flat River the past week and also attending the Burke-Hobbs revival.

J. D. and W. C. Poston drove out to French Village Saturday to interview and chat with the voters.

Rolla Kehrman who has been attending the State University of Wisconsin at Madison, Wis., returned to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Kehrman, here Saturday morning for a visit.

Lon and Lee Hammock of Silver Springs, spent Saturday in Bonne Terre. Why did you buy that box of candy Lon?

Everett Pratte spent Saturday among the voters in the Lead Belt.

Gerald Belknap of Herculaneum, made a short visit with homefolks here Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lydie Rhymer of Webb City, visited the family of her sister, Mrs. John White, in Bonne Terre, the past week.

Mrs. Casteel visited the family of her daughter, Mrs. Alice Feffer, at Elvins this week.

Miss Theresa Pass returned to her home in Festus Saturday afternoon after a week's visit with her cousin, Miss Lillie Dixon, and other relatives here.

Rev. Ramsey of Flat River, passed through town Saturday afternoon en route to Silver Springs where he filled his regular appointments on Saturday evening and Sunday morning returning home that evening.

Virgil Wilfong is making a visit with his uncle near Farmington.

Misses Mabel Madden and Lucile Messinger returned home Friday afternoon from a week-end visit with the latter's sister, Mrs. L. O. Wells, and family at Farmington this week.

Miss Lida Fake returned to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Fake, here Saturday morning. She had been attending the Milwaukee Downer College at Milwaukee, Wis.,

the past year.

Miss Mattie Hall who recently graduated from the Nurse Training School at St. Louis Hospital, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Amanda Hall, and other relatives besides friends, here this week.

William Calvert visited with the family of his uncle, Mr. Horton, at Bismarck, Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Degonia of Desloge was in Bonne Terre the latter part of last week visiting the family of her son, T. P. Degonia.

Mrs. Annie Elizabeth Poston and daughter, Hazel, visited the former's brother, Marion Thurman, and wife at Desloge the first of this week.

Every available vehicle was used to take crowds to the Burke-Hobbs revival at Flat River Sunday evening and all were disappointed because the service was stopped midway because of threatening rain.

Attorney R. C. Tucker of Farmington, was in town on legal business Friday, also working in interests of Democratic nomination for Prosecuting Attorney.

Harry Whitten has been working on the farm of his father's near Valle Mines the past week.

Mrs. Herman Fink went to St. Louis Friday morning to visit with the family of her sister, Mrs. C. E. Gilbert, for a few days and to do some shopping.

Lawrence Shields of Farmington visited homefolks here the latter part of last week. He is nursing an injured hand.

Misses Eunice Ringer and Audrey Fite have been visiting in Flat River the past week and also attending the Burke-Hobbs revival.

J. D. and W. C. Poston drove out to French Village Saturday to interview and chat with the voters.

Rolla Kehrman who has been attending the State University of Wisconsin at Madison, Wis., returned to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Kehrman, here Saturday morning for a visit.

Lon and Lee Hammock of Silver Springs, spent Saturday in Bonne Terre. Why did you buy that box of candy Lon?

Everett Pratte spent Saturday among the voters in the Lead Belt.

Gerald Belknap of Herculaneum, made a short visit with homefolks here Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lydie Rhymer of Webb City, visited the family of her sister, Mrs. John White, in Bonne Terre, the past week.

Mrs. Casteel visited the family of her daughter, Mrs. Alice Feffer, at Elvins this week.

Miss Theresa Pass returned to her home in Festus Saturday afternoon after a week's visit with her cousin, Miss Lillie Dixon, and other relatives here.

Rev. Ramsey of Flat River, passed through town Saturday afternoon en route to Silver Springs where he filled his regular appointments on Saturday evening and Sunday morning returning home that evening.

Virgil Wilfong is making a visit with his uncle near Farmington.

Misses Mabel Madden and Lucile Messinger returned home Friday afternoon from a week-end visit with the latter's sister, Mrs. L. O. Wells, and family at Farmington this week.

Miss Lida Fake returned to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Fake, here Saturday morning. She had been attending the Milwaukee Downer College at Milwaukee, Wis.,

BUSINESS COLLEGE NOTES

Miss Barrett of Bismarck, was an interesting visitor last Thursday and is planning to be one of our students in September.

Miss Golda Green departed for St. Louis last week, expecting to accept an office position.

Miss Frankie Hamilton has given up her school for the summer but expects to be with us again for the fall term, September 1st.

Students who passed their shorthand and typewriting tests last week are, Miss Lena Thurman, third test; Ralph Hughes, first test.

Miss Thurman will not accept an office position for a few weeks while Mr. Hughes has gone to his home near Knob Lick, for the summer but expects to return in the fall.

Lesear Buchanan went to St. Louis last Tuesday and our agency reports having him placed in a good stenographic position without any difficulty whatsoever. This merely emphasizes that high grade graduates are in demand, while it is well known that the merely so-called graduates will have a hard time to secure good office employment.

Prof. Moothart is working on his new College Journal, and also compiling a new mailing list, so now requests all students and friends of education generally, to kindly forward, within the next few weeks, the names of all young people who are in line for Business College attendance this next year. He will try to reciprocate all such kindness, so let the names come in.

Nick Cozcan, who spent last week at Hannibal, Mo., is back at his student duties. Mr. Cozcan is specializing at present in the bookkeeping department, and is progressing nicely.

Diplomas ordered this week are for, Miss Lena Thurman, shorthand department; William B. Moothart, bookkeeping department; Joseph Huber, bookkeeping department; R. Amos Beard, bookkeeping department, and Commercial Teachers' Certificate for both shorthand and business departments; Ellett Turley, bookkeeping and Gus L. Halter, bookkeeping.

Misses Ollie Cunningham and Ruby Shoultz have been promoted to President Moothart's office so as to get the actual stenographic experience so essential to first class work.

Nick Cozcan, who spent last week at Hannibal, Mo., is back at his student duties. Mr. Cozcan is specializing at present in the bookkeeping department, and is progressing nicely.

Diplomas ordered this week are for, Miss Lena Thurman, shorthand department; William B. Moothart, bookkeeping department; Joseph Huber, bookkeeping department; R. Amos Beard, bookkeeping department, and Commercial Teachers' Certificate for both shorthand and business departments; Ellett Turley, bookkeeping and Gus L. Halter, bookkeeping.

Misses Ollie Cunningham and Ruby Shoultz have been promoted to President Moothart's office so as to get the actual stenographic experience so essential to first class work.

Nick Cozcan, who spent last week at Hannibal, Mo., is back at his student duties. Mr. Cozcan is specializing at present in the bookkeeping department, and is progressing nicely.

Diplomas ordered this week are for, Miss Lena Thurman, shorthand department; William B. Moothart, bookkeeping department; Joseph Huber, bookkeeping department; R. Amos Beard, bookkeeping department, and Commercial Teachers' Certificate for both shorthand and business departments; Ellett Turley, bookkeeping and Gus L. Halter, bookkeeping.

Misses Ollie Cunningham and Ruby Shoultz have been promoted to President Moothart's office so as to get the actual stenographic experience so essential to first class work.

Nick Cozcan, who spent last week at Hannibal, Mo., is back at his student duties. Mr. Cozcan is specializing at present in the bookkeeping department, and is progressing nicely.

Diplomas ordered this week are for, Miss Lena Thurman, shorthand department; William B. Moothart, bookkeeping department; Joseph Huber, bookkeeping department; R. Amos Beard, bookkeeping department, and Commercial Teachers' Certificate for both shorthand and business departments; Ellett Turley, bookkeeping and Gus L. Halter, bookkeeping.

Misses Ollie Cunningham and Ruby Shoultz have been promoted to President Moothart's office so as to get the actual stenographic experience so essential to first class work.

Nick Cozcan, who spent last week at Hannibal, Mo., is back at his student duties. Mr. Cozcan is specializing at present in the bookkeeping department, and is progressing nicely.

Diplomas ordered this week are for, Miss Lena Thurman, shorthand department; William B. Moothart, bookkeeping department; Joseph Huber, bookkeeping department; R. Amos Beard, bookkeeping department, and Commercial Teachers' Certificate for both shorthand and business departments; Ellett Turley, bookkeeping and Gus L. Halter, bookkeeping.

Misses Ollie Cunningham and Ruby Shoultz have been promoted to President Moothart's office so as to get the actual stenographic experience so essential to first class work.

Nick Cozcan, who spent last week at Hannibal, Mo., is back at his student duties. Mr. Cozcan is specializing at present in the bookkeeping department, and is progressing nicely.

Diplomas ordered this week are for, Miss Lena Thurman, shorthand department; William B. Moothart, bookkeeping department; Joseph Huber, bookkeeping department; R. Amos Beard, bookkeeping department, and Commercial Teachers' Certificate for both shorthand and business departments; Ellett Turley, bookkeeping and Gus L. Halter, bookkeeping.

Misses Ollie Cunningham and Ruby Shoultz have been promoted to President Moothart's office so as to get the actual stenographic experience so essential to first class work.

Nick Cozcan, who spent last week at Hannibal, Mo., is back at his student duties. Mr. Cozcan is specializing at present in the bookkeeping department, and is progressing nicely.

Diplomas ordered this week are for, Miss Lena Thurman, shorthand department; William B. Moothart, bookkeeping department; Joseph Huber, bookkeeping department; R. Amos Beard, bookkeeping department, and Commercial Teachers' Certificate for both shorthand and business departments; Ellett Turley, bookkeeping and Gus L. Halter, bookkeeping.

Misses Ollie Cunningham and Ruby Shoultz have been promoted to President Moothart's office so as to get the actual stenographic experience so essential to first class work.

Nick Cozcan, who spent last week at Hannibal, Mo., is back at his student duties. Mr. Cozcan is specializing at present in the bookkeeping department, and is progressing nicely.

Diplomas ordered this week are for, Miss Lena Thurman, shorthand department; William B. Moothart, bookkeeping department; Joseph Huber, bookkeeping department; R. Amos Beard, bookkeeping department, and Commercial Teachers' Certificate for both shorthand and business departments; Ellett Turley, bookkeeping and Gus L. Halter, bookkeeping.

Misses Ollie Cunningham and Ruby Shoultz have been promoted to President Moothart's office so as to get the actual stenographic experience so essential to first class work.

Nick Cozcan, who spent last week at Hannibal, Mo., is back at his student duties. Mr. Cozcan is specializing at present in the bookkeeping department, and is progressing nicely.

Diplomas ordered this week are for, Miss Lena Thurman, shorthand department; William B. Moothart, bookkeeping department; Joseph Huber, bookkeeping department; R. Amos Beard, bookkeeping department, and Commercial Teachers' Certificate for both shorthand and business departments; Ellett Turley, bookkeeping and Gus L. Halter, bookkeeping.

Misses Ollie Cunningham and Ruby Shoultz have been promoted to President Moothart's office so as to get the actual stenographic experience so essential to first class work.

Nick Cozcan, who spent last week at Hannibal, Mo., is back at his student duties. Mr. Cozcan is specializing at present in the bookkeeping department, and is progressing nicely.

Diplomas ordered this week are for, Miss Lena Thurman, shorthand department; William B. Moothart, bookkeeping department; Joseph Huber, bookkeeping department; R. Amos Beard, bookkeeping department, and Commercial Teachers' Certificate for both shorthand and business departments; Ellett Turley, bookkeeping and Gus L. Halter, bookkeeping.

Misses Ollie Cunningham and Ruby Shoultz have been promoted to President Moothart's office so as to get the actual stenographic experience so essential to first class work.

Nick Cozcan, who spent last week at Hannibal, Mo., is back at his student duties. Mr. Cozcan is specializing at present in the bookkeeping department, and is progressing nicely.

Diplomas ordered this week are for, Miss Lena Thurman, shorthand department; William B. Moothart, bookkeeping department; Joseph Huber, bookkeeping department; R. Amos Beard, bookkeeping department, and Commercial Teachers' Certificate for both shorthand and business departments; Ellett Turley, bookkeeping and Gus L. Halter, bookkeeping.

Misses Ollie Cunningham and Ruby Shoultz have been promoted to President Moothart's office so as to get the actual stenographic experience so essential to first class work.

Nick Cozcan, who spent last week at Hannibal, Mo., is back at his student duties. Mr. Cozcan is specializing at present in the bookkeeping department, and is progressing nicely.

Diplomas ordered this week are for, Miss Lena Thurman, shorthand department; William B. Moothart, bookkeeping department; Joseph Huber, bookkeeping department; R. Amos Beard, bookkeeping department, and Commercial Teachers' Certificate for both shorthand and business departments; Ellett Turley, bookkeeping and Gus L. Halter, bookkeeping.

WHY NOT LEARN HOW TO PLAY

Something for the Workaday American to Note

(Courtesy of Pictorial Review)

As a nation, we Americans do not know how to take pleasure—to amuse ourselves. We take our pleasure, like our work, too seriously. We go to extremes; we make hard work of our vacations. If we can't play terribly hard, and after the same fashion of our neighbors who are better off, we won't play at all. Some of us are so afraid we won't play in the right way—in the fashionable way—that we just give up trying altogether. Then our bodies, and our minds, and our souls—pay the price of being denied relaxation and pleasure.

A clever Englishman said to the writer not long ago—"You make haste, even in your amusements, so they lack spontaneity and gaiety. You really can't enjoy a dinner, don't you know, when you race to it in a taxicab with your open watch in your hand. You are so afraid of missing something at a dance that you never sit out a dance. You work just as hard as the paid musicians. When I ask an American woman to sit out a dance with me, that I may enjoy her conversation, she accedes graciously, but she thinks I am not getting my money's worth."

We can't take the pleasure nearest our hand. We reach out for the pleasures which some other fellow can afford better than we. We try to find pleasure in the things we can't pay for.

Now, there's Bill Graham. You may not recognize him by his name, but he lives in your town. Bill loves the water, so does Bill's wife. When Bill was courting her, he used to hire a row boat or a canoe, and she would steer their craft into shadowy corners of the lake, where the sunlight would dart through a lace work of leaves and fling wonderful lights in her hair. Bill proposed to her in one of those shadowy nooks. And he hasn't got over the sentiment for a row boat to this day.

But would they go rowing in a hired boat now? Not much! He would recall that one of his business rivals owned a motor-boat of high power, and she would remember that she saw her servant taking a boat ride with the grocer's clerk last Sunday.

No, decidedly it won't do for them to go rowing! They must wait till Bill can buy a motor boat. So Bill works nights or acquires a round dozen of wrinkles by taking a long chance in his business, and Bill's wife contents herself by sitting on a porch of a fashionable summer hotel for two weeks, worrying herself to a frazzle because she hasn't so many dresses as her neighbor.

And those late afternoons when Bill might close his desk, and with Mrs. Bill in a simple wash dress, row back to the shadowy pool with its mystery of wood and water life, and its memories of the sweet-heating days. There he would find rare coloring, green and gray and gold, which no artist can paint; murmuring and humming of birds and insects which no composer has ever reproduced; odor and air which woo the sleep that worry has banished.

But, no, that wouldn't do. It's too small, too inconspicuous, too inexpensive a pleasure for the average American to enjoy. He would not be outclassing his fellowmen—except in contempt. And what pray, is that, in this day and age?

And those late afternoons when Bill might close his desk, and with Mrs. Bill in a simple wash dress, row back to the shadowy pool with its mystery of wood and water life, and its memories of the sweet-heating days. There he would find rare coloring, green and gray and gold, which no artist can paint; murmuring and humming of birds and insects which no composer has ever reproduced; odor and air which woo the sleep that worry has banished.

But, no, that wouldn't do. It's too small, too inconspicuous, too inexpensive a pleasure for the average American to enjoy. He would not be outclassing his fellowmen—except in contempt. And what pray, is that, in this day and age?

And those late afternoons when Bill might close his desk, and with Mrs. Bill in a simple wash dress, row back to the shadowy pool with its mystery of wood and water life, and its memories of the sweet-heating days. There he would find rare coloring, green and gray and gold, which no artist can paint; murmuring and humming of birds and insects which no composer has ever reproduced; odor and air which woo the sleep that worry has banished.

But, no, that wouldn't do. It's too small, too inconspicuous, too inexpensive a pleasure for the average American to enjoy. He would not be outclassing his fellowmen—except in contempt. And what pray, is that, in this day and age?

And those late afternoons when Bill might close his desk, and with Mrs. Bill in a simple wash dress, row back to the shadowy pool with its mystery of wood and water life, and its memories of the sweet-heating days. There he would find rare coloring, green and gray and gold, which no artist can paint; murmuring and humming of birds and insects which no composer has ever reproduced; odor and air which woo the sleep that worry has banished.

But, no, that wouldn't do. It's too small, too inconspicuous, too inexpensive a pleasure for the average American to enjoy. He would not be outclassing his fellowmen—except in contempt. And what pray, is that, in this day and age?

And those late afternoons when Bill might close his desk, and with Mrs. Bill in a simple wash dress, row back to the shadowy pool with its mystery of wood and water life, and its memories of the sweet-heating days. There he would find rare coloring, green and gray and gold, which no artist can paint; murmuring and humming of birds and insects which no composer has ever reproduced; odor and air which woo the sleep that worry has banished.

But, no, that wouldn't do. It's too small, too inconspicuous, too inexpensive a pleasure for the average American to enjoy. He would not be outclassing his fellowmen—except in contempt. And what pray, is that, in this day and age?

And those late afternoons when Bill might close his desk, and with Mrs. Bill in a simple wash dress, row back to the shadowy pool with its mystery of wood and water life, and its memories of the sweet-heating days. There he would find rare coloring, green and gray and gold, which no artist can paint; murmuring and humming of birds and insects which no composer has ever reproduced; odor and air which woo the sleep that worry has banished.

But, no, that wouldn't do. It's too small, too inconspicuous, too inexpensive a pleasure for the average American to enjoy. He would not be outclassing his fellowmen—except in contempt. And what pray, is that, in this day and age?

And those late afternoons when Bill might close his desk, and with Mrs. Bill in a simple wash dress, row back to the shadowy pool with its mystery of wood and water life, and its memories of the sweet-heating days. There he would find rare coloring, green and gray and gold, which no artist can paint; murmuring and humming of birds and insects which no composer has ever reproduced; odor and air which woo the sleep that worry has banished.

But, no, that wouldn't do. It's too small, too inconspicuous, too inexpensive a pleasure for the average American to enjoy. He would not be outclassing his fellowmen—except in contempt. And what pray, is that, in this day and age?

And those late afternoons when Bill might close his desk, and with Mrs. Bill in a simple wash dress, row back to the shadowy pool with its mystery of wood and water life, and its memories of the sweet-heating days. There he would find rare coloring, green and gray and gold, which no artist can paint; murmuring and humming of birds and insects which no composer has ever reproduced; odor and air which woo the sleep that worry has banished.

But, no, that wouldn't do. It's too small, too inconspicuous, too inexpensive a pleasure for the average American to enjoy. He would not be outclassing his fellowmen—except in contempt. And what pray, is that, in this day and age?

And those late afternoons when Bill might close his desk, and with Mrs. Bill in a simple wash dress, row back to the shadowy pool with its mystery of wood and water life, and its memories of the sweet-heating days. There he would find rare coloring, green and gray and gold, which no artist can paint; murmuring and humming of birds and insects which no composer has ever reproduced; odor and air which woo the sleep that worry has banished.

But, no, that wouldn't do. It's too small, too inconspicuous, too inexpensive a pleasure for the average American to enjoy. He would not be outclassing his fellowmen—except in contempt. And what pray, is that, in this day and age?

And those late afternoons when Bill might close his desk, and with Mrs. Bill in a simple wash dress, row back to the shadowy pool with its mystery of wood and water life, and its memories of the sweet-heating days. There he would find rare coloring, green and gray and gold, which no artist can paint; murmuring and humming of birds and insects which no composer has ever reproduced; odor and air which woo the sleep that worry has banished.

But, no, that wouldn't do. It's too small, too inconspicuous, too inexpensive a pleasure for the average American to enjoy. He would not be outclassing his fellowmen—except in contempt. And what pray, is that, in this day and age?

And those late afternoons when Bill might close his desk, and with Mrs. Bill in a simple wash dress, row back to the shadowy pool with its mystery of wood and water life, and its memories of the sweet-heating days. There he would find rare coloring, green and gray and gold, which no artist can paint; murmuring and humming of birds and insects which no composer has ever reproduced; odor and air which woo the sleep that worry has banished.

But, no, that wouldn't do. It's too small, too inconspicuous, too inexpensive a pleasure for the average American to enjoy. He would not be outclassing his fellowmen—except in contempt. And what pray, is that, in this day and age?

And those late afternoons when Bill might close his desk, and with Mrs. Bill in a simple wash dress, row back to the shadowy pool with its mystery of wood and water life, and its memories of the sweet-heating days. There he would find rare coloring, green and gray and gold, which no artist can paint; murmuring and humming of birds and insects which no composer has ever reproduced; odor and air which woo the sleep that worry has banished.

But, no, that wouldn't do. It's too small, too inconspicuous, too inexpensive a pleasure for the average American to enjoy. He would not be outclassing his fellowmen—except in contempt. And what pray, is that, in this day and age?

And those late afternoons when Bill might close his desk, and with Mrs. Bill in a simple wash dress, row back to the shadowy pool with its mystery of wood and water life, and its memories of the sweet-heating days. There he would find rare coloring, green and gray and gold, which no artist can paint; murmuring and humming of birds and insects which no composer has ever reproduced; odor and air which woo the sleep that worry has banished.

But, no, that wouldn't do. It's too small, too inconspicuous, too inexpensive a pleasure for the average American to enjoy. He would not be outclassing his fellowmen—except in contempt. And what pray, is that, in this day and age?

And those late afternoons when Bill might close his desk, and with Mrs. Bill in a simple wash dress, row back to the shadowy pool with its mystery of wood and water life, and its memories of the sweet-heating days. There he would find rare coloring, green and gray and gold, which no artist can paint; murmuring and humming of birds and insects which no composer has ever reproduced; odor and air which woo the sleep that worry has banished.

But, no, that wouldn't do. It's too small, too inconspicuous, too inexpensive a pleasure for the average American to enjoy. He would not be outclassing his fellowmen—except in contempt. And what pray, is that, in this day and age?

And those late afternoons when Bill might close his desk, and with Mrs. Bill in a simple wash dress, row back to the shadowy pool with its mystery of wood and water life, and its memories of the sweet-heating days. There he would find rare coloring, green and gray and gold, which no artist can paint; murmuring and humming of birds and insects which no composer has ever reproduced; odor and air which woo the sleep that worry has banished.

But, no, that wouldn't do. It's too small, too inconspicuous, too inexpensive a pleasure for the average American to enjoy. He would not be outclassing his fellowmen—except in contempt. And what pray, is that, in this day and age?

And those late afternoons when Bill might close his desk, and with Mrs. Bill in a simple wash dress, row back to the shadowy pool with its mystery of wood and water life, and its memories of the sweet-heating days. There he would find rare coloring, green and gray and gold, which no artist can paint; murmuring and humming of birds and insects which no composer has ever reproduced; odor and air which woo the sleep that worry has banished.

But, no, that wouldn't do. It's too small, too inconspicuous, too inexpensive a pleasure for the average American to enjoy. He would not be outclassing his fellowmen—except in contempt. And what pray, is that, in this day and age?

And those late afternoons when Bill might close his desk, and with Mrs. Bill in a simple wash dress, row back to the shadowy pool with its mystery of wood and water life, and its memories of the sweet-heating days. There he would find rare coloring, green and gray and gold, which no artist can paint; murmuring and humming of birds and insects which no composer has ever reproduced; odor and air which woo the sleep that worry has banished.

But, no, that wouldn't do. It's too small, too inconspicuous, too inexpensive a pleasure for the average American to enjoy. He would not be outclassing his fellowmen—except in contempt. And what pray, is that, in this day and age?

Buy It From The Robert Tetley Jewelry Co.

We try to do our work just a little better. On this principle we have built up our large business. For near a lifetime we have been repairing watches, clocks, etc., and selling jewelry to the citizens of this community.

Our Pride is Your Satisfaction

A satisfied customer has been our standing advertisement. When in need of anything in our line why not join the circle of multiplied friends and patrons of the old and reliable Jewelry firm of Farmington?

Don't Forget Our Line of Sewing Machines

There are no better sewing machines made than we handle, and the price is reasonable. Can furnish you a new sewing machine about as cheap as you can buy a second hand one, if you desire that kind of machine. Come in and see the newest thing out—the TWO-SPOOL machine

It will be of mutual interest to see us at any and all times when in need of anything in our line.

The Robert Tetley Jewelry Co.
RELIABLE JEWELERS

ST FRANCOIS COUNTY CANDIDATES